A man so drunk that he can not tell his friends he is sober, is pretty badly off.

Mr. J. D. Whitaker has for sale two thousand cords of best pine wood cheap.

"Mine friend" Joseph's beer is unsurpassed in quality, and it is always kept ice-cool.

Pepper knows how to serve up edibles in the best manner. His beefsteaks are exceedingly palatable.

"Probs" for to-day gives warmer weather, partly cloudy and probably occasional rains, with winds Southerly or Easterly.

A rattlesnake possessing seven rattles was killed a few days since on the farm of Mr. Oberlin, on Crabtree Creek, some five miles from this city.

Members of the Raleigh Light Infantry will meet punctually at the market-house at 8 o'clock this evening to take steps for the appropriate celebration of the National Anniversary of Independence. A full and punctual attendance is desired.

Gen. Wiley Jones, since the brilliant beginning and "harmonious" action of his party on Wednesday, claims "only seven hundred" Radical majority in Wake. Couldn't you come down a little, General—only about seven hundred and one? You had better come down a little now, so that you may be let down a little easier in August.

The Hope Engine, manufactured by McCallum, Wycoff & Hope, of this city, received a gold medal at the last State Fair. No better stationary engine is manufactured anywhere, and the attention of those wanting engines is invited to the advertisement in another column.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.—Says the Fayetteville Gazette:

"We regret to know that our friend and neighbor Col. John W. Hinsdale and his accomplished wife have removed to the city of Raleigh, there to reside permanently. Col. Hinsdale will be a great acquisition to the Raleigh bar, in his reputation for legal ability and indomitable energy is by no means confined to his own section."

We are glad to welcome Col. Hinsdale into our midst, and hope he may meet with that success his energies and abilities entitle him to.

☞ Persons leaving the city for the Summer can have the DAILY NEWS sent to them for 75 cents per month, postage prepaid. The address may be changed as often as desirable.

THROWN OVERBOARD.—It would seem as the result of the work of the Radicals of this county on Wednesday that the hitherto invincible Tim Lee has been thrown overboard. Requiescat in pace, say we.

IMPORTANT SALE OF BOOKS.—We invite attention to the sale of books to-day at 12 o'clock at Towles' auction store, by the Secretary of State. The lot embraces many valuable works to lawyers and others.

We have been assailed on all hands, for the past four days, with the inquiry: "Have you got your dispatches yet? Have the jury come in?" And when we answered "no," all the questioners looked as if they had just emerged from a "cave of gloom." so anxious were they on the subject.

A NATIONAL SALUTE.—The Raleigh Light Artillery will fire a National salute on Monday morning, the occasion of the Fourth. We are really pleased to see this evidence in our midst of that same feeling which actuated the Bostonians recently to give such a hearty reception to their Southern visitors.

TAXED AS A MENAGERIE.—We understand that Gen. Wiley D. Jones, the President of the Radical powwow at Metropolitan Hall on Wednesday, was yesterday taxed $75.00 "for the exhibition of his menagerie." Correct ruling on the part of the officials, for we never saw the animals perform better.

THE SUPPOSED MURDER CASE IN PANTHER BRANCH TOWNSHIP.—We learn nothing further from the supposed murder of the wife and child of Scott Partin at his hands, other than farther investigation makes the committal of the deed almost certain, as the circumstantial evidence is damning and almost conclusive. To-day the citizens of that section will in a body search the whole country in the effort to find some solution of the mystery, suspicion leading to a pond as the scene of the foul deed, in a morass by which Partin and his wife had to pass on the night they left his father's house in February last.

THE LAST OF THE ROBESON COUNTY OUTLAWS ARRESTED IN GOLDSBORO.—George Applewhite, col., the last of the Robeson county outlaws, was yesterday arrested in Goldsboro, after a desperate struggle, by Policeman Freeman, and lodged in the county jail at that place. He has been in that city for some time passing under the name of Jackson.—When recognized he tried to make his escape, but in being pressed by the officers of the law he fought like a tiger and was only subdued by the free use of the billy. There has been a standing reward of $5,000 for this outlaw.

THE CONCERT AT THE PEACE INSTITUTE.—The annual concert of this institution came off on Wednesday night, under the direction of Prof. A. Baumann, and was in its every sense all that the most ardent friends of the school could desire. The hall was crowded with the guests of the occasion. Had we the power, we should be pleased to speak of the various pieces performed as they deserve, but we will not attempt a description in which we would only fail. The entire performance reflected great credit upon the Institution and especially upon the powers of Prof. Baumann, showing as it did a thorough proficiency on the part of the young ladies who had been selected to participate in the entertainment given.

Many of the pieces performed were of an extremely difficult and at the same time touchingly beautiful character, while the vocal music in some instances impressed the audience with a sense of the natural ability of the fair performers and the proficiency attained under the tutorship of Prof. B. We trust we may be pardoned for mentioning particularly the vocal solo "When the Tide Comes In," by Miss Emma Graves, of Hillsboro, the solo "The Storm," by Miss Clara Yates, of Charlotte, the solo "Thou who Knowest Each Human Feeling," by Miss Isabel Williams, of Fayetteville, and the vocal trio "Come 'tis now our Festal Hour," by the Misses. G. Smith, K. Tate and Mrs. Baumann. Indeed all acted well their part.

Misses K. Rice, L. Holt, M. Burwell, S. Towles, A. Wriston, M. Oettinger, M. McNeil, I. Williams, H. Caldwell, L. Watkins, M. Scott, S. Arrington, J. Hinton, F. Davis, B. Harrison, A. Sprunt, Minna Penick, Laura Holt, Nora Aycock, Clara Yates, S. Gorrel, K. Turrentine, A. Burwell, J. Leach, E. McNeil, J. Murphy, J. Moore, E. Humppile, M. Williamson, S. Wilkinson, K. Wilder, Mary Arrington, G. Scott, K. Rice, A. Kerr.

The whole affair passed off most pleasantly to all concerned, and yesterday the most of the young ladies returned to their respective homes to spend their vacation.

CARY.

A New Creation—A Model Village—The Home of Thrift, Energy and Morality.

Within the past few years, a flourishing little town has sprung up on the North Carolina Rail Road, and immediately where the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line road intersects the former, eight miles West of Raleigh. It strikes the eye of the traveller by its appearance of freshness, of thrift and energy. And it is the creation of the energy of A. F. Page, to whom beyond all doubt is due the rapid growth of the place, while at the same time, others have so warmly seconded his views as to share with him the credit of this new creation.

This village had its origin in the fitness for the production of a good quality of lumber, and for the facility presented for shipment. An extensive saw mill was in operation before the war, and did a very large business with points all along the rail road. The Messrs. Page had built fine dwellings and made handsome and substantial improvements.

The seed was planted for the growth of a town when the increasing population and business of Raleigh created a demand for the use of suburban retreats, and when the building of the Chatham Railroad increased the facilities for reaching them. Upon the completion of this road, Cary had a magical growth, and sprung up in a year or two to be one of the prettiest villages along the line of the rail roads, and with inherent elments of prosperity which promise to develop it into a large and flourishing town.

It presents in the first place the advantage of perfect accessibility. The trains of the two roads pass immediately through it, and several times during the day the village may be reached from any direction; and the trains are so arranged that a resident or a sojourner at Cary may pass his business hours in Raleigh, going into the city after a leisurely breakfast, and returning to an early supper.

It is a healthy place. The soil is a light sandy loam, the surface of the ground gently undulating, securing perfect drainage, the elevation of the site two hundred feet higher than Raleigh being the highest point between that city and Haw River, the air pure and invigorating and the water unexceptionable.

It is a moral place. Named after one of the great apostles of temperance, Gen. Sam'l. H. Cary, it has observed the consistency of its origin by a rigid adherence to the principles of temperance. All its inhabitants are tee-totallers from principle, if not by obligation, and prohibition of the sale of liquor in the village is a fundamental idea.

As adjuncts to its morality it takes care of its churches and its schools. It has two of the former, a Methodist and a Baptist; and of the latter it has had one in operation about two years under the charge of Mr. Jesse H. Page.

The seminary is a commodious and comfortable edifice, furnishing good accommodations for a large number of pupils. Boarders are under the care of the Principal, in an elegant house provided for the purpose, on a lot adjoining the Seminary Grove. The assistants are not only competent for their work, but also "apt to teach." The music department is under the direction of Miss Mary L. Riddick—an accomplished lady, and a successful teacher of music. Instruction is given in all the branches which are required for a thorough and finished education. The scholastic year is divided into three sessions: the first of fourteen weeks, the other two of thirteen weeks each—The first term begins on the first Thursday of September; the second, the first Thursday of January; and the third, one week after the close of the second term. Board and tuition are payable in advance.

These are some of the features which make the place attractive in itself. It will be observed that the physical, moral and intellectual wellbeing of the inhabitants are well provided for.

In a material point of view Cary is not less promising and prosperous. It presents some striking recommendations as a manufacturing point, and they have been taken advantage of to a much larger development.

The steam saw mills already spoken of continue in active and extensive operation. In connection with them is a shingle manufactory, under proprietorship of Guess & Co., which is worked continually to its utmost capacity. As also connected with, or rather the accompaniment of the saw mills, are the large works of Mr. W. Jones for the furnishing of sash, blinds door frames, bracket mouldings, &c., and ready built houses if desired. Here is also the manufactory of the Cary or Sorrell cotton gin, which is a favorite wherever used.

The most important establishment, however, at Cary is the steam cotton mill. This is a handsome three story brick building, originally designed for a hotel, but diverted to its present use last October. It is now engaged only in the production of yarns, which are admitted to be of superior quality. About 1,500 spindles are run. The proprietors are now putting up looms of the most approved construction, and will soon be engaged in the production of sheetings and shirtings. Connected with the factory is a steam grist mill, which is doing a good business.

The village is growing steadily, and with so many advantages attending its position and its local government must continue to attract population and interest capital. It has now a population of nearly four hundred, among whom there is not a single individual of disreputable habits or character, nor a slugle male who is not a useful, industrious and energetic citizen.

SUPREME COURT.—The following cases were argued in this court on Wednesday:

Robt. K. McConnell vs. S. P. Caldwell et al., from Mecklenburg. McCorkle & Baily and Jones & Johnston for plaintiff, and Wilson & Son and Dowd for defendant.

The following cases were argued on Thursday.

R. D. Rhyne vs. G. W. McKee, from Gaston. B. C. Cobb for plaintiff and J. F. Hoke for defendant.

State vs. Wm. L. Wood, from Mecklenburg. Attorney General for State, and Hoke and Battle contra.

REGISTER.—The Wards in the city having been changed by the act of the Legislature, it will be necessary for a new registration in order to vote in the next August election. The County Commissionors have appointed Registrars, and places of registration in the different Wards in the city. The Books are open to-day, and we call upon our friends to register right away.

The following are the Registrars board and the places of registering:

D. A. Wicker, 2d Ward—Basement of old Cape Fear Bank.
J. J. Lewis, 3d Ward—Courthouse.
J. P. Prairie, 4th Ward—

MONEY ORDERS.—We have been furnished from the post-office department with the following correct statement of charges concerning money orders which went into effect yesterday: On orders not exceeding $15, ten cents; for $15 and not exceeding $30, fifteen cents; for $30, and not exceeding $40, twenty cents; for $40, and not exceeding $50, twenty-five cents. The fees for registering letters have been changed from 8 to 10 cents from the 1st inst.

REMOVED TO STAUNTON, VA.—Mr. Wm, D. Cook, one of our most esteemed citizens, and the original Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum of this city, has removed with his family to Staunton, Va., to accept of a position which has been given him in the Asylum at that place. Mr. Cook carries with him the good will of the many in this community and State who have learned his true worth.

The Oxford Torchlight is to be issued daily during the session of the District M. E. Conference, soon to assemble in that place, containing full reports of the meeting. This is an evidence of commendable enterprise in friend Davis.

A GENIUS.—Our youthful friend E. L. Harris, of Sassafras Fork, Granville county, is taking crayon portraits that would do credit to any of the art galleries in the country.—He will soon be before the public and should receive a liberal patronage.

A Kansas paper says—"A mule kicked an insurance agent in this place, on the cheek, the other day. The agent's cheek was injured, but the mule's hoof was broken."

[From the Weldon News.

Judge S. W. Watts.

A journalist who has due regard for the interests of the public, will not, without good cause, cast any reflection upon one occupying the position of Judge. Whatever tends to bring the judiciary into disrespect, tends, also, to beget disrespect for the laws, and to mar the administration of justice. Hence the imperative duty of a Judge to so demean himself in his high office as to give no cause of reproach, and a corresponding duty on the part of the press and of the public to sustain him in all that he does aright.

Such considerations have heretofore restrained us from commenting on the official conduct of the Hon. S. W. Watts, Judge of the Sixth Judicial District of North Carolina. We have allowed much that was censurable in his course of action to pass without comment, because we did not wish to lessen his usefulness as a judge by exciting public dissatisfaction against him. But his conduct at the June Term of the Superior Court for this county cannot be submitted to, and we would be false to our duty were we to permit it to pass unnoticed. We beg attention to the following statement:

On Thursday of the first week of the Term, 14th inst., Elias Powell was put upon the trial for the murder of Isadore Cohen. The case was given to the jury on the afternoon of Friday, and while they were still in their room, deliberating in the verdict. Judge Watts left on the 7½ p. m. train for the purpose of attending a political meeting somewhere in Nash county on the next day, and of making thereat a political speech. He gave instructions to notify him by telegraph should the jury agree.

He was accompanied by Mr. Harris, the prosecuting attorney for the District. And a telegram was sent to him on Saturday morning that the jury had agreed. But he did not return until Sunday morning, and as he could not take the verdict on that day, the jury were not released until Monday.

A few years ago, B. F. Moore, the head of the bar in N. C., and a number of the leading lawyers of the State, impressed with the importance of preserving the judicial ermine free from stain or blemish, joined in a remonstrance against the course of certain judges of the Supreme Court in exhibiting themselves as political partisans of the day. The Judges implicated affected to become so indignant under such a charge, that, without notice, of their own mere motion, they suspended from the exercise of their profession, until a hearing could be had, the lawyers whose names appeared to the remonstrance. We have no remarks to make now upon such action, or upon the merits of that controversy, and our only purpose in referring to it is to show how abhrrent to the bar and to the public political partisanship in a Judge must be, and how learned Judges shrink from it. What, then, are we to think of such conduct on the part of Judge Watts? It is lamentable indeed to know that Judge Watts should so far forget the duties of his position, and exhibit so little respect for public opinion as to become an open political partisan. That he and the public prosecutor, acting in concert, should depart from their Court and the county, perhaps from the district, to engage as stump orators at a political meeting, leaving a jury in session deliberating on the guilt or innocence of a man charged with murder, is an instance of official profligacy not to be endured by the public, and loudly demands legislative action and condign punishment.

We are no lawyer, but we have heard lawyers for whose opinion we entertain high respect, intimate that this conduct may result in a discharge of the prisoner, and thus end in allowing the perpetrator of a most cold blooded murder entirely to escape. Judge Watts not only left the county but, in all likelihood, the District. If he voluntarily left the District, even for five minutes, or any appreciable point of time, the Court here was at an end, and the jury ceased, in contemplation of law, to exist, and became incapable of further action in the case. It is even insisted that this result follows if he left the county but not the district. For the idea that the court of a county can be legally in session, when the Judge of the court has voluntarily left and gone to another county is repugnant to law and to common sense.

Should the prisoner in this case escape by this official misconduct of Judge Watts a great crime against public justice has been committed. For the murder was deliberate and cold-blooded, and perpetrated for the purpose of robbery merely. Not long ago, a man charged with murder in Warren county escaped through somewhat similar action of Judge Watts. He left the jury in session and went to his home in Franklin county. The jury could not agree, and he directed the Clerk, by telegram, to discharge them. When the prisoner was brought up for trial a second time, his counsel moved for his discharge, and, this being refused, he appealed to the Supreme Court.—That Court held that the Clerk could not legally discharge the jury, and that the Judge ought to have been present, and directed the discharge of the prisoner as he could not, under the circumstances of the case, be tried again.

One would think that Judge Watts warned by this case in his own experience, for which he richly deserved impeachment, would have acted with more caution. But he has lost all prudence, all sense of propriety, and all regard for the proper administration of public justice in his sorry ambition and overwhelming desire to figure as a stump orator at crossroads political meetings.

We are actuated in what we have written by no partisan spirit, and we are well satisfied that honest men of every party will unite with us in condemning such conduct on the part of a Judge. We have done what duty demanded of us, in making a full expose of the matter and now we leave it in the hands of those who may have the power to pursue it farther and who will not be held guiltless if they fail to apply the remedy.

There's one thing we'd like to know. While all these Brooklyn wives and mothers are sitting around the Court-room, waiting for the verdict, who's looking after their households and putting the children to bed?

Sow Corn For Fodder.

The almost entire failure of the oat crop in many places, and the probability that grass and other forage crops will be short, render necessary a resort to some other means of providing forage for stock. At this season the best that can be done appears to us to be a resort to sowed corn. The practice is but little in vogue here, but in a few instances in which we have known it tried it has been attended with very good success.

Perhaps a larger quantity of good, nutritious feed may in this way be produced than from any other crop with which we are acquainted, and as there is no more difficulty in curing it properly than there is with the tops of the ordinary corn crop, it is strange that this kind of forage crop has not become more popular in this section.

We would advise those of our readers whose prospects for a full forage crop are not good, to sow an acre or two in corn. They will find it to be a great help-out, and it will require no attention after planting till time to cut. Break the land deeply, lay off rows four feet apart, and sow the corn thinly along the row. Cover the corn by running once along the rows with turn plow, and leave it till large enough to cut. You may, however, give it a plowing about the first of August, which will be an advantage.

The management of sowed corn for fodder is so simple that we presume no particular directions will be desired by any one. We only aim as the season advances, to give such timely reminders and caution as may be of special or immediate use to the reader. The great trouble in all such cases is, to get people started. Constant agitation is the way to move them.

A Curious Marriage Contract.

Jared R. Buell was arraigned in the criminal court in Indianapolis last Thursday morning on an indictment for adultery with Susan D. Gilbert. The defendant admitted that he was living with a woman as man and wife and believed he was legally married to her, and that said marriage was by the agreement made between the parties, on the 26th of May, 1875, a copy of the agreement being filed, which is as follows: "I have in the presence of the witnesses taken by the hand Susan D. Gilbert as my lawful, wedded wife, and promise to fulfil all the duties of a kind and faithful husband in prosperity or adversity, in sickness or in health, so long as the union of love and life shall last. Whereas the courts of law have decided that marriage is a civil contract, and governed by the same rules as other contracts, therefore we hereby agree that this contract shall exist and be in force during our physical life, provided our mutual love and natures ever blend as now, but to terminate without prejudice by the wish of either party if love should ever cease to be mutual, which event we trust and believe will never occur." The burden of the defence was that the agreement constituted a legal marriage, to which the prosecution excepted, on the ground that the defendant was trying to evade marriage laws of the State, and that the agreement or contract with Susan D. Gilbert was null and void as a legal marriage, by reason of the provision in the second clause of the agreement. A decision was not rendered. The case is attracting considerable attention.

The Executive Committee of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry meet in Washington today, and will decide where the headquarters of the National Grange shall be located. The Executive Committee will also consider the proposition of the Co-operative Societies of Great Britain for the establishment of an international system of exchange between the Grangers and the Societies.—Washington paper, June 30.

A Chicago policeman undertook to arrest a negro under a State's warrant. The negro resisted the service, and the officer shot him dead. The jury that sat upon the deceased from the evidence said "proper discretion was not used in attempting to make the arrest." "Indiscreetly murdered" is good—almost as good as "justifiable adultery."

HEALTH IS CAPITAL.—Who can doubt it? Do we not every day see the vigorous and clear-headed pushing on to fortune, and the feeble and brain-befogged tarrying by the way? Health gives energy, vim. What a healthy body is prompt to execute. Difficulties which deter the invalid altogether, the vigorous man surmounts at a bound. If we would be successful, let us first be healthy. The initial step to be taken toward arriving at that condition, is to rally the failing energies of the system. As a renovant of decaying vital power, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be justly recommended in preference to all other tonics, since its superiority as an invigorant is the subject of daily demonstration. But it is far more than a simple recuperant of physical strength; it is a prompt remedy for bodily irregularities, particularly of the stomach, bowels and liver, and a reliable preventive of maladies begotten of miasma, impure water, exposure and exhaustion, the bad effects of which it invariably counteracts. OUR TERMS:

ADVERTISING RATES.—Per square (ten lines, Nonpariel) first insertion $1.00; each subsequent insertion 50 cents. Contracts for advertisements of any space or time can be made at the counting-room of the NEWS OFFICE.

CONTRACTORS will positively not be allowed to exceed their space, or advertise other than the legitimate business, except by paying specially for the same.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.—Daily, one year, $5.00; six months $3.00. Weekly, one year, $1.00; Six months, 75 cents. Invariably in advance.

Notice to Correspondents.

No letter can be published in these columns which is not authenticated by the name of its author. This we require, not for publication, but as a guarantee of the good faith of correspondents. Persons who violate this rule will have their communications consigned to the waste-basket.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

IT is a good sign of the return of a healthful national feeling when the people of the South as well as of the North can glory in the success of the American Rifle team as an American victory. The time is but in the recent past where such a contest would have been passed by with absolute indifference. Bunker Hill and Concord with their pleasant accompaniments have again touched the chords of the national heart and set it to beating again in harmonious sympathy.

THE eagerness with which the Radicals seek the nominations for the Convention shows the insincerity of their promises to adjourn the Convention immediately on assemblage, should they have a majority. If they should have a majority they will hold on as tenaciously as they did in '68, and long enough to fasten the present Constitution upon the State with a ten fold grip, and with added features of objection.—Let not the people be misled by any such promise to adjourn.

It is a false and insincere promise, properly coming from those revolutionary enough in their designs to entertain any such proposition.

THE Baltimore Gazette calls strongly upon the Northern press to put a stop to the dissemination of the foul scandals which have been pouring a polluted and polluting stream through their columns for the last year. To the Northern press is due the vitiation of public taste, and the corruption of public morals. It pandered at first to the depraved appetite of a limited circle. But the diseased taste has infected the surrounding mass, and now the press feels almost compelled to minister to it, at the risk of a loss of popularity.

The South is not yet corrupted. It has loathed the details of the Beecher case, and similar disgraces. But the stream is gradually making its encroachments. Southern virtue is not incorruptible. And with the Gazette we think it time to make the appeal to the New York press in behalf of good morals and public decency, as well as in behalf of respectable journalism which they degrade, to put a stop to this thing.

WE learn that Judge Watts dissolved the injunction which he had imposed upon the County Treasurer of Halifax, restraining him from paying any farther orders issued by the County Commissioners. The exorbitant amount of extra allowances made by these Commissioners amounting to $3,285 in eight months was called to the attention of his Honor by the Grand Jury. The injunction was issued upon their suggestion of the facts. A little more than ten days has passed and the injunction has been dissolved. What new light has dawned upon his Honor, that transactions that a week ago he described "as illegal and void, by which actions and doings the said county is mulcted in ruinous expenditures and the citizens unnecessarily taxed," are now deemed to be all right, honest and proper?

The public will be apt to inquire into a judicial act which reverses so pliantly its own decisions, and makes that porper and lawful one week which the week before called for all the powers of judicial rebuke and restraint.

The average New Yorker is just now a little puzzled. When he is requested to "Give the old man another chance," he scratches his head and asks who do you mean, Beecher or Tweed?

Judge Neilson is reported to have said of the Beecher-Tilton jurors: "Why they do not come into court and say they cannot agree, or ask for instruction upon some disputed point, do not know."

FOURTH OF JULY.

The national holiday since the war has been forgotten, as such, by the whites of the South. Its recognition as a jubilee of freedom was a bitter satire upon their condition. The glitter of bayonets, and the flaunting of the national flag only reminded them that they were under the power of the one, and that the other floated over them as the symbol of conquest.

But now we believe a better day has come. The power of enmity is broken. Hate no longer burns in the Northern heart, or if it does is feeble in comparison with its former fierce flame. The Southerner is once again regarded as a countryman.—And with this recognition of a common right and a common claim, all that was asked, after sincere acceptance of the consequences of war, the South may once again look with a flush of pride upon that day which commemorates the deeds of their forefathers, and think it appropriate to celebrate the birthday of a liberty which within the past year has shown itself capable of preservation and perpetuity.

We hope the whites will no longer consent to yield the observance of the day solely to the negroes, but resume the old honored customs of orations, salutes, military parades, fireworks and all that once made the Fourth of July a glorious day, to the young mind especially.

HALIFAX AFFAIRS.

A tax-payers convention is to be held in the town of Halifax on the second Monday in July to endeavor to adopt some measures of relief for the grievances under which the tax payers labor, and to bring to the knowledge of the State the oppressions they have been subjected to by justice partially or loosely administered. An array of facts will be presented which will startle every body interested in the pure administration of the law and the support of an equal share of the public burdens. It will be shown that one class alone—the white tax payers of the county have borne these last—while the large, ignorant and unrestrained majority have had their will in the imposition of taxes or in the free use of the public monies, raised by unjust discriminations, and drawn from the County Treasury by fraudulent representations or unauthenticated claims.

The grievance is based upon that system derived from the present Constitution which makes a judge however incompetent, unjust or partizan in his decisions he may be, a fixture upon the district for the whole term of his election, with no relief except through the slow, expensive, unusual and unpopular remedy of impeachment. Or it is founded equally upon that system under which the magistracy of a county, the creature of constituencies ignorant of qualifications and indifferent to character, for whom office is the opening to fortune, and who use place only for personal or party use, owes its existence.

Now relief is to be had only by a change in the Constitution which removes the binding force of this system, and leaves it with the Legislature to enact an entire new one, in whole or in part as may be demanded by the wants of the different communities in the State.

CONSISTENCY.

The action of the Radical County Convention of Wake of Wednesday is perfectly in character with the action of the party in its connection with the negro. Now if there is a county in the State in which the Radical party has been dependent upon the negro vote for success, it is Wake. The negro majority in the city of Raleigh has, up to last August, with the aid of the white Radical vote, and with aid also of Democratic luke-warmness, overwhelmed the Democratic vote of Wake county. It has put power and and office in the hands of the Radical party, and it may justly claim to be the controlling element. Now if there is any consistency in the assertion of equal rights and a uniformity of qualification; if there is proper recognition of services and of political consequence, then the negro should have had equal representation in the Convention as elsewhere. But for the negro in Wake as elsewhere there is an end of usefullness. His use has been to hold up his party for the advancement of his white brethren. He is the catspaw to draw out the chesnuts of office. His white brethren begin to think they can do without him, and they pass him by with cool indifference.

It is not our fight, however. The Democratic party had made no pretensions to flatter the negro. It has never admitted his qualifications for legislation. It treats him fairly, secures him justice, guarantees him equal political and legal rights and goes no father. The Radicals have gone farther and have filled Legistures and Conventions with men notoriously incompetent. This recognition of negro equality is the foundation stone of Radical success. When the party forgets its wisdom in this respect it may count the days of its strength as numbered. The colored man of Wake, led by some far advanced in intelligence, and quite equal in a moral point of view with some who have surperceed them, feel the slight, and will not be so willing as usual be whipped into the support of those to whom they have been compelled to give place.

AN AGED MOTHER'S FATE.

A month ago Sarah Smith returned to her old home in New Jersey from visiting one of her children in another State. For many years she and her husband had lived in the little village of Franklin. They were poor, not even owning the little cottage they dwelt in, but they so lived that they had earned the respect of their humble neighbors. A year ago the husband died, leaving little or no provision for the support of his widow, then seventy-three years of age; but she had several children married in different parts of New York and New Jersey, and with them in turn she passed much of her time. As often as she could, though, she came to visit the friends who had been her neighbors while her husband lived. She so came a month ago, and after a few days her son-in-law Benjamin Robinson, of Raritan, arrived one Saturday to take her to his home. She started with him, and the two reached Newark, and there Robinson went into a saloon and got drunk. His feeble mother could do nothing to restrain him, and soon, in the midst of a street row, he was arrested, and she was alone and penniless. She borrowed a little money from the man who sold her son the drink, and bagan a weary trudge back again toward Franklin. Her route has easily been traced, for she stopped frequently on the way to make inquiries, and her sad, old face impressed all to whom she spoke. At one time she was sitting by the roadside, when two young men approached her and asked whether she needed help. "Please raise me on my feet," said she, "for I am very weak, and tell me, if you can, by which way I can reach Franklin." They aided her as they could, and she slowly tramped on. She was then only a mile from her home, but she lost the road and soon kept getting further away. Later she met a party of workmen returning from their work in Yantacaw, and they pointed out to her the spires of her distant village, and walked along by her side until their roads parted, and then giving her a word of cheer, they stood for a moment watching her as she wearily left them. Her gray hair, loosened by the wind, straggled from under her shoulder, and her short dress of dark stuff was covered with dust. One of the men offered his support for a bit of her journey, but she thanked him, saying that she had but little distance to go, and she would not trouble him. Soon she become too weak to continue, and turning aside from the highway she passed a rude foot bridge over a narrow stream to a heavily wooded island in Acquakanonk. Then she climbed to the summit of a knoll, a few rods away from the beaten path, and folding her hood to make a pillow, straightening her dress and covering herself with her shawl, she turned her face so that she could see, scarcely a mile distant, the home toward which she had been journeying, and laid herself down to rest or die. She did not move from that spot, and her friends did not miss her, for those in Franklin thought she was with her daughter in Raritan, and her son-in-law, Robinson, supposed she had safely returned to Franklin. On Sunday morning, a laboring man, strolling through the woods, found her body. Immediately the Coroner and a jury were obtained, who found simply that "Sarah Smith died on Saturday, May 1, from cold and exposure." Her children gathered and quietly buried their mother yesterday, decorating her grave with flowers.

A CENTENNIAL INCIDENT.—The Boston Herald tells this: "The day following our centennial festivities the following incident occured in a south end saloon: A friend had invited one of the South Corolina soldiers into the saloon to put another turf on the buried hatchet. While standing at the bar a stranger came in. The Carolinian suddenly dropped his glass and closely eyed the stranger. His gaze was so steady and peculiar that the friend began to be alarmed and to fear that the hatchet was about to be dug up again. Directly the Carolinian asked the stranger if he knew him. There was no recognition, whereupon the Carolinian asked him if he was not in the late war. 'Yes,' was reply. 'And you were once stationed at such a place?' 'Yes.' 'And took part in such a skirmish?' 'Yes.' 'Well, I thought so,' replied the Carolinian, and raising his hat showed a large scar on his forehead, saying, 'There's your sabre mark, my boy; come up and take a drink.'"

COMPLIMENTS TO MR. BEACH.—A number of leading lawyers of Troy, New York, have addressed a letter to the Hon. Wm. A. Beach, senior counsel for Mr. Tilton in the scandal case, in which they say: "The undersigned, members of the bar of Rensselaer county, beg to offer their compliments and congratulations upon the able and dignified manner in which you have conducted the Tilton-Beecher case on behalf of the plaintiff, and your very able, eloquent address to the jury, and simply as a deserved compliment to the author of so brilliant an effort, and without intimating our several views upon the merits of that controversy, your former associates respectfully and earnestly desire you to accept at their hands a dinner to be given at Troy, at such time as will suit your convenience."

An elegantly dressed lady of some twenty-five summers, in leaving the train at the Central depot the other day, remarked: "Well, I am here. For fifteen long, weary years I looked forward with anxiety to the happy period when, as with others, it would be my lot to 'go to the Falls,' and at last it has arrived, but—I had to come alon"—Niagara Falls Register.

Mr. Pullman is rich and if he wants his empty cars dragged around the country to show his patriotism, we shan't pile and ties.—Vicksburg Herald.

It must sound funny when John Begod, of Springfield, Ohio, answers the question, "What's your name,"

The Virginia University Commencement.

A special to the Richmond Enquirer from Charlottesville, under date of the 29th ult., says:

The town is crowded with visitors from all parts of the United States to witness the University commencement. The weather was warm during the day, but to-night is cloudy and pleasant.

The final celebration of the Jefferson Literary Society took place to-night. Mr. A. M. Robinson, of Austin, Texas, was the orator, and made a splendid oration.

The medal for the best debater was presented to Mr. L. N. Levi, of Vicksburg, by the president of the society, Mr. Benjamin Fitzpatrick, who made a neat speech. Mr. Levi made an appropriate acceptance speech, after which Professor Holmes presented the medal for the best magazine article to Mr. M. B. Almond, of Charlottesville. The audience was very large.

"It is a serious question for Republicans whether it is better for them to go in and beat the Democrats at the fall elections, or let them fill up the measure of their iniquities another year, so as to carry the country even more overwhelmingly in the presidential election of the year following."—Springfield Union.

Whereupon the Albany Evening Times sagely remarks:

"This looks very much as if the Republicans were so discouraged at the political outlook as to give up the fall contest in advance. The affected finesse which would throw away victory this year in hope to thereby obtain success in the next campaign, is only a feint to cover retreat from the field. It reminds one of the victories which the French permitted the Prussians to win in the late war, for the purpose of beguiling them to Paris, and capturing the whole German army at "one fell swoop."

They have commenced the assessment of official salaries in Washington to furnish a fund with which to carry the next election against honesty and reform. Last week a one-armed ex-Union soldier, with a wife and four helpless children, was assessed eight dollars and forty cents for the purpose above indicated.

City boarders are beginning to arrive at Danbury, says the News, and are going enthusiastically into the hay-field. It is estimated that one able-bodied city boarder with a good sharp scythe will mow down ten yards of stone fence and cripple seven people for life in a single afternoon.

ADDRESS OF THE EXECUTIVE DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE CENT'L EX. COM.,
RALEIGH, June 1st, '75.

To the People of North Carolina:

The General Assembly at its recent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next, for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient.

NECESSITY FOR CHANGE.

The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Constitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time opposed the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposition to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstrued by the violent and ill-informed men then controlling Congress, and the prosperity of our people checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some harsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the people of North Carolina have the same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed without apprehension to perfect our Constitution and remodel it in the interests of our people.

THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW.

This Constitution, the creature of Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Sciolists and adventurers, who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifications entitling them to it; others were our recent slaves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet-baggers, both black and white—alien in feeling and Radical in education—who sought positions herd that were denied them where known—to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given the ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could read the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support beleiving it would be merely temporary, and to escape further agitation and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be found unsuited to our condition, and that we should embrace the earliest opportunity consistent with reason and prudence to secure such changes as time and experience have shown to be necessary. Our organic law should be expressed in language clear, simple and perspicuous, so that nothing may be left to inference or construction; our rights, so precisely defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each department of the government should be so restricted, that while left free to discharge its appropriate duties, it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of the others.

THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR CONDITION.

That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, for its abominable characteristics were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit instrument to be submitted to the people. Indeed its provisions are so loosely worded and so badly arranged as to constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful construction of the courts; in fact, to reconcile the difficulties arising from its practical workings, the court has in some instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to introduce a new principle, hitherto unknown in the judicial history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legislation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its existence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been demanded than in the entire previous history of the State—and of late we have witnessed the extraordinary spectacle of two sets of judges in both the second and eighth Judicial Districts, contending for the same position, one of which claiming to hold by an appointment from the Governor for a period of ten years, an office that the Constitution seems to say is to be filled by the people at the polls, and whose term is expressed to be only eight years.

In many counties there is a practical denial of justice the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons accused of criminal offences are often confined for months without trial. We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office, which is now filled by a mere consumer; for only by a rigid and prudent economy in our public and private affairs, can we hope to re-tore the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW NECESSARY.

It is also hoped that a greater incentive to honesty and a purification of the ballot box might result from depriving those who are convicted of infamous crimes of the elective franchise.

The Penitentiary which already contains more than six hundred able-bodied men also demands careful and practical attention, to remove in some measure that burden from our shoulders. Most of our private legislation should be excluded from the General Assembly. However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the present constitution to enumerate the remedies to be offered,

There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the expenses of the Legislature, and in order to prevent hasty and inconsiderate legislation that no new matters be brought forward within — days of their adjourning.

CAREFUL SELECTION OF DELEGATES.

As to the specific changes that ought to be made, these are to be considered by the citizens of the various counties, who should be careful to select as delegates those who will properly reflect their wishes. Men of enlarged and practical statesmanship, spotless integrity, representatives of all classes of society, and whose positions among them will entitle them their labors to confidence and support—and in their hands they certainly can more safely confide their rights than in the Convention of 1868.

METHODS OF CHANGE.

Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encountered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious apprehensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adopted; again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encumbered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consideration, without meeting such criticisms as may imperil their labors.

The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of members as compose the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in six months. As to expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated.

The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Personal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are chiefly enjoyed by the friends of Constitutional Reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and anticipate scrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a party, but had their origin in the necessities of civilized society and were found among the statutes of various States previous to the war.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES.

It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen optics of some persons defy all law. The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satisfy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate before "he shall be permitted to sit, to be entitled to a seat in said Convention or act as a delegate thereto," shall swear to observe these "restrictions" (see acts 1874-5.) Should a part comply and part refuse to take this oath, only those who obey the law are members of the body, nor are we without precedents; similar oath was required of the members of the "restricted Convention" of 1865, the same question was raised, and after debate all the members took the oath and observed the restrictions, and that a time of high party excitement. In that discussion the distinguished Judge Gaston used the following language: "The State Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratified the act of the Legislature by choosing delegates under it. If we transcend the limits or refuse obedience to the conditions therein prescribed we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body;" these views were concurred in by Macon, Edwards, Morehead, and others. We will dismiss the subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jameson on "Constitutional Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that Coventions are bound to obey the restrictions imposed by the Legislature in the Act calling the Convention.

AID FROM REPUBLICANS.

In our last election it was gratifying to see Republicans who had hitherto submitted to the control of unscrupulous leaders under a mistaken belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their corruptness as demonstrated by the "Credit Mobilier revelations," "Sanborn Contracts," and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the superior race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudice and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the work so auspiciously begun. To those who oppose us under the delusion of their leaders, who assured them this bill would never pass Congress and if it did would be vetoed by the President, though it now has his signature; and who have witnessed the earnestness with which the dangerous "Force Bill" was urged upon Congress, we say no longer remain where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The battle for civil liberty is not yet over. "Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet-bag programme for this State; though driven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We therefore invite their co-operation. The Convention owes its final success to the support of some of their ablest representatives in the General Assembly and they are doubtless aware that the wise provisions introduced into the Convention of 1868, by their ablest native representatives were scouted and defeated by that same element that has brought ruin upon their party and confusion to our State.

NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION.

The friends of Convention should at once perfect their organization and bring out their best men in every county in the State. The leaders of the Republican party know that by their reckless violations of the constitution and efforts to central zeall power in the hands of the Federal Government, they have justly forfeited the confidence and support of the people; they therefore trust not to their own strength but to our apathy, and will endeavor to secure our defeat by divisions and false leaders. We therefore respectfully invite their attention to the following resolution adopted and successfully followed in our last campaign:

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our Conventions. Let your primary county Conventions be duly advertised and see that the people have a full opportunity of attending and expressing their wishes. The contest is important not only in its immediate effects but in subsequent results. The Republican party, under the leadership of carpet-baggers still remaining among us, will advocate the election of delegates, who will agree to meet and as journ without holding a Convention, and this in violation of the wishes of the people, expressed through a two-thirds majority of the chosen Representatives, and after a considerable part of the expense for mileage and per diem is incurred. We believe, however, the promise is but a delusion and snare, for should they ascertain they have a majority in the body, it will be an easy matter for them to evade their promise by the refusal of a few to concur; as they do not acknowledge the "restrictions" as binding, they will resort to the most revolutionary measures to sustain their desperate fortunes, and in the end will fail to submit their work to the people for ratification or rejection.

Let us, therefore, present a united front, and with a general advance along our lines Radicalism will not only be routed but overwhelmed, and a victory for Civil Liberty assured for 1876.

MEDICINAL.

TAKE

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen. It is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctor's bills.

After Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials of its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it as the most for CONSTIPATION, HEADACHE, PAIN in the SHOULDERS, DIZZINESS, SOUR STOMACH, bad taste in the mouth, BILIOUS ATTACKS, PALPITATION, of the HEART, PAIN in the region of the KIDNEYS, DESPONDENCY, GLOOM and for bodings of EVIL, all of which are the offspring of a diseased LIVER.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from TORPID LIVER, or "BILLIOUSNESS," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently.

The LIVER, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not regulated in time, great suffering, wretchedness, and DEATH will ensue.

Armed with this ANTIDOTE, all climates and changes of water and food may be faced without fear. As a Remedy in MALARIOUS FEVERS, BOWEL COMPLAINTS, RESTLESSNESS, JAUNDICE, NAUSEA,

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!!

I have never seen or tried such a simple, efficacious, satisfactory and pleasant remedy in my life." H. Hayden, St Louis, Mo.

Rev. Alex. H. Stephens,

"I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Doctor Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect." HON. ALEX. H. STEPHENS, Governor of Alabama:

"Your Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I recommended it as a valuable addition to the medical science.—Gov'r J. GILL SHORTER, Ala.

"I have used the Regulator in my family for the past seventeen years. I can safely recommend it to the world as the best medicine I have ever used for that class of diseases it purports to cure." H. F. TRIGNER, President of City Bank.

"Simmons' Liver Regulator has proved a good and efficacious medicine."—C. A. NUTTING, Druggist.

We have been acquainted with Dr. Simmons' Liver Medicine for more than 20 years, and know it to be the best Liver Regulator ever offered to the public."—M. R. LYON and H. L. LYON, Bellefontaine, Ga.

LIVER

IT HAS NO EQUAL.

It is a faultless family medicine. Does disarrange the system. Is sure to cure if taken regularly. Is not a drastic violent medicine. Does not interfere with business. Is no intoxicating beverage. Contains the simplest and best remedies.

CAUTION!

Buy no Powders or Prepared SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR unless in our engraved wrapper with Trade Mark, Stamp and Signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of Appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The HEAD is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of having LEFT UNDONE something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBILITY, and low spirits. Sometimes MANY of the above symptoms attend the disease, at other times very few; but the LIVER is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from indigestion and torpidity of the LIVER, and none is always constantly present. If the Liver is in a healthy condition, good digestion will be established, and pure blood will be made. Sick Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Costiveness, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inward Fever, Dullness, Loss of Appetite, Drowsiness, Chills, Fever, Blues, Nervousness, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Pains in different parts of the body, all of these indicate disease of the Liver in a greater or less degree, and one bottle of SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR will do more for a sick or nervous person than any other medicine in the world. Ladies who are suffering from any of the above symptoms, or who require a gentle but effective Cathartic, should use it. Being purely vegetable, it is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and has the endorsement of more than a million persons who have used it and know its value, and of thousands of the leading men of the country, all of whom say it is the best medicine they ever used. From all parts of the country will be found testimonials to the same effect. Many of the most eminent Ministers of the Gospel use it, and recommend it as the best and safest remedy for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Depression of Spirits, Sour Stomach, Colic, and all diseases arising from a Disordered Liver or Stomach. It is the great blood purifier, and acts upon all the secretions of the system, restoring them to a healthy action. It is the great remedy for Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Intermittent Fever, Periodical Headache, Bilious Headache, and for Malarial Diseases generally. It is the only sure preventive of Chills and Fever and Fever and Ague ever discovered. Explicit directions in the wrapper around each bottle, which should be carefully preserved until you have used the Medicine.

THE CLERGY.

"My wife and self have used the Regulator for years and testify to its great virtues."—Rev. J. H. Fellows, Perry, Ga.

LADIES INDORSEMENT.

"I have given your medicine a thorough trial and can say that it has done all that you claim for it. I have used it in my family for Chills and Fever, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, and Biliousness, and it has never failed to cure."—Mrs. Sarah Johnson, Quincy, Fla.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The French Government and the Philadelphia Centennial.

PARIS, July 1.—The Journal officially publishes a decree appointing a special committee for the purpose of encouraging the Frenchmen to participate in the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition, and facilitating the efforts of those who intend doing so. The committee is composed of members of the Assembly, merchants and other persons, a number of whom hold relation with the United States.

More Failures in London.

LONDON July 1.—Messrs Decasta, Raalte & Co. have failed for a quarter of a million. Messrs Kilburn, Kershaw & Co. for two and a quarter million.

Later.

The liabilities of Decasta, Raalte & Co. are $1,250,000, not $250,000 as before stated. The liabilities of Kilburn, Kershaw & Co., whose failure is also announced, $3,750,000.

The Fiji Islands.

LONDON, July 1.—Advices received to-day from Fiji report that there is no diminution in the violence of the measles and typhoid fever on the islands. The mortality from the disease is great. It is probable that medical assistance will be sent from Australia to the afflicted people.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

THE BEECHER TRIAL.

FAILURE OF THE JURY TO AGREE!

Sent Back by Judge Neilson for Farther Consultation.

BROOKLYN, July 1.—The jury came into Court; the foreman, Carpenter, stated that they could not agree upon the question of fact. Judge Neilson told them to disregard affidavits submitted for reopening, and sent them back. At 25 minutes past one, Judge Neilson came on the bench, the consultation having broken up, and was followed into Court by the counsel, who were received with clapping of hands and stamping of feet. They all took their seats in their usual places, and conversed with one another. At 1:37 the jury came in and took their seats, looking pale and exhausted; some of them carried coats and travelling bags in their hands, from which the audience augured they had come to an agreement, and were prepared to leave court. Judge Neilsou requested the utmost silence be observed in the Court during the proceedings. Tilton and Beecher were then both absent. The Clerk called the jury, who answered to their names in low tones. Judge Neilson then said he was sorry they could not agree, and asked them if the disputed question was one of fact or law.

Mr. Carpenter, speaking with a low voice, stated it was impossible for the jury to agree and that he regretted it very much; the question of dissgreement was one of fact. Judge Neilson then called attention to the length of the trial and said that was the first intimation he had from the jury. 'In our embarrassments,' said he, "various considerations had been pressed, and their attention had been called to the fact that after the argument and before the charge, some papers had been handed up to him, he had examined them that evening and denied the motion for re-opening the case, assuming for the moment that the jury would forget that subject. He would like to know if anything was lingering on their minds with regard to the matter, and asked them if it would be suitable for them to state to him any questions of law or of fact which disturbed them. Carpenter repeated that it was solely a question of fact, and no agreement was possible; that in a month, they would be no nearer an agreement than they were to-day. He said he spoke for 11 of the jurors when he said he believed that an agreement was impossible, and that there was only one man believed they could ever reach an unanimous conclusion. Judge Neilson spoke to them of the importance of the case, and asked them to give it their further consideration, requesting them for that purpose to retire again to their rooms and deliberate upon it further and communicate with him about four o'clock.

Later,

Judge Neilson concluded to lock the jury up for the night.

Bard's bondsmen then notified the money order clerk not to regard Bard's orders, as they were no longer responsible as his bondsmen. Bard then left the office. Conly took possession.

The little daughter of a clergyman in a parish not far from New Haven, after having had charge of the baby all day while the folks were renovating the house, asked at night if she might pray for what she wished. The request being granted, she said her usual prayer, supplementing it with "and please, Lord, don't let us have any more house-cleaning."—New Haven Palladium.

An old lady, hearing some one reading about a Congressman at large rushed into the kitchen door shouting: "Sarah Jane! Sarah Jane! don't you leave the clothes out all night; mind what I tell you, for ther's a Congressman at large."

Bessie Turner is making quite a income out of the scandal trial. Large quantities of her photographs are sold in New York, on each of which she receives a royalty. Bessie would probably like to keep up the excitement on this basis.

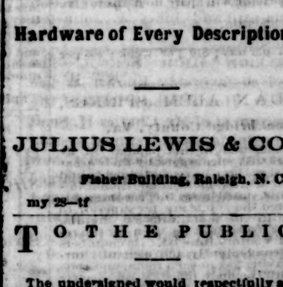
Manufacturers of Reams



DURHAM, N. C.

The only Blacking that will

POLISH OVER OILED SURFACE AND

Preserve the Leather!

Warranted to Excell All Others or Money Refunded!

The only blacking that will polish on oiled surface. It is guaranteed to preserve the leather and make it pliant, requiring less quantity and time to produce a greater gloss than any other, the brush to be applied immediately after putting on the blacking. A perfect gloss from this will not soil even white clothes. We guarantee it as represented, and ask for patronage entirely on its merits.

In testing our blacking we ask a trial that has to other on it. Prices as low as other blacking. Liberal arrangements made with dealers to send on trial. We believe we give testimonials of those who have tested our Blacking thoroughly and speak for themselves. These testimonials are from gentlemen well known to the public.

Respectfully,

The American Needle Gin now established upon its sixth year. During the past season its reputation has been widely extended by its successful operation—competed as many of the Southern fairs, and bearing away first premiums. In the gin-house it has eclipsed its most successful record. At fairs. A report from one of our single circle Condenser Gins in Georgia, ginned 7,8 bales of cotton." In South Carolina, "That during the ginning season a gin of the same size ginned a bale weighing 519 pounds in forty five minutes. From many other reports the fact is pretty well established that a fifty circle will gin a bale in sixty five minutes. At the Wilmington, N. C. Fair a forty circle ginned 100 lbs. seed cotton in six minutes with thirty-six pounds of lint. At the State Fair of South Carolina, held at Columbia, in December last, a Thirty Circle Condenser was run in the open air through with boxes of parlor matches and made to fire without setting fire to the cotton or injuring the needle.

PREMIUM SAFETY OIL

Safest. Purest, Best!!

No family can afford to be without

SAFE AS A TALLOW CANDLE.

Read the following letter to the manufacturers:

MOTT HAVEN, Westchester Co., N. Y., January 12th, 1875.

Messrs. DENSLOW & BUSH, New York:

Gentlemen—My store at this place was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the instant. On removing the ruins from the ruins we discovered some cans of your "Premium Safety Oil," and found that some of them had the nozzles melted off, and others were firmly soldered together by the intense heat to which they had been subjected, but the oil was yet in the cans having neither exploded nor taken fire. It affords me much pleasure to add my testimony to the great superiority of your "Premium Safety Oil" for illuminating purposes, as well as for the protection of life and property.

Yours, respectfully,
WILLIAM H. WATERS.
